Each service listed below reflects our current capabilities and offerings available to customers today. Contact us today for project scoping & pricing!

Business & EHS Consulting Services

We provide full-service consulting and advisory support to companies seeking to strengthen their Environmental, Health & Safety (EHS) performance and risk-management systems. Our offerings include:

- Business consulting services in the field of environmental, health, and safety (EHS) management.
- Business consulting services in sustainability strategy, program development, and reporting.
- Business consulting services in operational risk management, critical risk control programs, and EHS management systems.
- Support in implementing EHS programs, workforce engagement solutions, and field-level hazard recognition practices.

Training & Educational Services

We deliver both live and online training, courses, professional development, and continuing education across the EHS and OEHS disciplines. Current services include:

Live and Online EHS Education

- Conducting classes, seminars, workshops, and courses in the field of environmental, health, and safety (EHS).
- Providing online instruction and interactive modules covering Occupational and Environmental Health & Safety (OEHS).

- Offering subscription-based access to EHS courses, job aids, templates, digital learning tools, and specialized content.

Continuing Professional Education

- Providing live and online continuing education seminars in Occupational & Environmental Health & Safety (OEHS).
- Delivering advanced leadership development training for EHS and operational leaders.

Conferences & Specialized Programs

- Developing, arranging, and conducting educational conferences and structured EHS programs.
- Arranging and hosting EHS-focused training events, workshops, and multi-day educational sessions.

EHS & Emergency Response Training

- Interactive online training in occupational and environmental health & safety and emergency response.
- Providing on-demand and instructor-led training for compliance, hazard recognition, incident prevention, and risk-management practices.

Technology, Software, and Platform Development

Through EHS Connect, we currently design, build, and support technology solutions that help companies train, analyze data, meet compliance standards, and manage workplace risks. Our active offerings include:

Platform & Software Services

- Platform-as-a-Service (PaaS) solutions featuring software for EHS training, risk management, and workforce development.
- Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) tools supporting data management, recordkeeping, reporting, compliance, and risk-assessment workflows.
- Providing temporary use of online non-downloadable software for EHS and business-management functions, including:
 - Training delivery and tracking
 - Risk assessment and risk-control verification
 - Recordkeeping and compliance documentation
 - Reporting, analytics, and KPI dashboards
 - Inventory tracking and product quality management

Custom Software Development

- Designing and developing custom computer software platforms for EHS, risk management, regulatory compliance, productivity improvement, and workforce training.
- Developing tools for internal or client-specific EHS processes, including field data capture, observations, inspections, and incident-prevention workflows.

Safety, Legal, and Risk-Management Consulting

We work directly with organizations to strengthen their safety-related policies, systems, and practices. These services are active and available across all operating regions. Offerings include:

- Legal consulting services in environmental, health, safety, sustainability, and risk management.
- Consulting services addressing the safety needs of commercial and industrial companies.
- Workplace-safety consulting covering hazard control strategies, high-risk work programs, and operational safety systems.
- Advising on compliance with applicable regulatory frameworks, EHS standards, and industry best practices.

Our Commitment

Every service listed above reflects capabilities we are actively providing to organizations today. Whether a client needs consulting, training, technology solutions, legal EHS guidance, or an integrated combination of other services your organization needs, EHS Group can deliver.
